United We Sew...

A lot has been made lately about all the things that divide us as a country and for that matter, as a world. There is of course these days the divide between Trump supporters and Trump haters. There is the divide between Boomers and Millennials, Democrats and Republicans, football fans and soccer enthusiasts.

And of course there are divides that go back much further. Between North and South, which caused a very bloody war in this country; between meat eaters and vegetarians; between dog lovers and cat people; between those of faith and those who worship the Cosmic Muffin or whatever.

But, thank God we are nearly all united in one thing: there are very few nudists. Maybe it's not technically God we need to thank for that but the serpent who according to the great story, lured Adam and Eve to eat from the Tree of Knowledge and thus to become ashamed of their nakedness. As well they should have been, if not in their youth then for sure in older age, because the body unadorned gets anything but prettier over the long run. It's a good thing we don't have to look at it in the raw in daily life.

And that, my friends, is why you are engaged in one of the noblest occupations in history as a member of the sewing trade. It is thanks to sewing that we are all not just wearing fig leaves and smelly old animal skins. And for that matter that we will still have comfortably upholstered seats to sit in while we ride around in terror in our driverless cars. That we have dog leashes and parachutes and theater costumes and tool pouches and boat covers and truck tarps and mattresses and surgical gowns and space and haz-mat suits and all those other things useful to the human race that you people cut & sew.

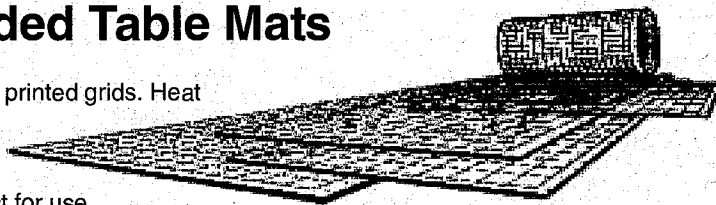

And thus you can be happy that what you do is not only useful, but helps unite this country and the nations of the world.

Thank you for your service, and thank you as always for your patronage!

Prices listed here are per roll or pack. Weights are listed in pounds and are approximate and will vary. Item number suffixes indicate the roll width in inches.
